

RUFFWEAR®

2020 SPRING/SUMMER DEALER WORKBOOK

THE ROAD LESS TRAVELED

There is no pre-marked path on the road less traveled. We must create our own way, using beliefs as our compass and lessons as our waypoints. With each step, we uncover truths about ourselves, one another, and our world. These discoveries shape us and the direction we take.

By perceiving these often-subtle signposts, we can decide where our journey will go. We learn that even the most impossible obstacles can be overcome - and the simplest experiences can bring unimaginable joy.

This season, we're digging into what it means to find purpose and healing in the outdoors with our dogs. We're exploring how these gifts come with a responsibility to protect our planet's last remaining wild places. And, we're discovering how our canine companions help guide us in choosing growth over comfort as we navigate this wild journey we call life.

FEBRUARY 2020

The iconic Front Range collection gets a fresh look and expands to include a new collar. Reflective webbing leashes & collars continue to shine in new hues and – for the first time – new patterns that are as inspiring as they are innovative.

NEW DESIGN

Front Range® Harness

Padded everyday harness that is easy to put on. Features two leash attachment options: V-ring centered on the back, and reinforced webbing at the chest to redirect dogs that pull on leash.

WHAT'S NEW: Polyester shell fabric for improved durability and colorfastness, and light loop for The Beacon™.

COLORS:

SIZE: XXS - L/XL

NEW DESIGN

Front Range™ Leash

Everyday leash with an ombré pattern that coordinates with our Front Range Harness and Collar. Features a padded, ergonomic handle and our lightweight, low-profile Crux Clip™.

WHAT'S NEW: Polyester webbing to elevate the handfeel and colorfastness.

INSPIRATION IN BLOOM

In developing an apparel item with a printed pattern, Ruffwear product designer Liz started with several patterns inspired by nature - tree canopy, tropical flowers, glistening water in a bay, old growth moss, huckleberry sprigs, and blossom. Blossom stood out because the variety in flower sizes and contrasting colors create a depth that mimics nature's erratic patterns. It's fun and approachable, while maintaining a connection to our natural surroundings.

Fernie™ Jacket

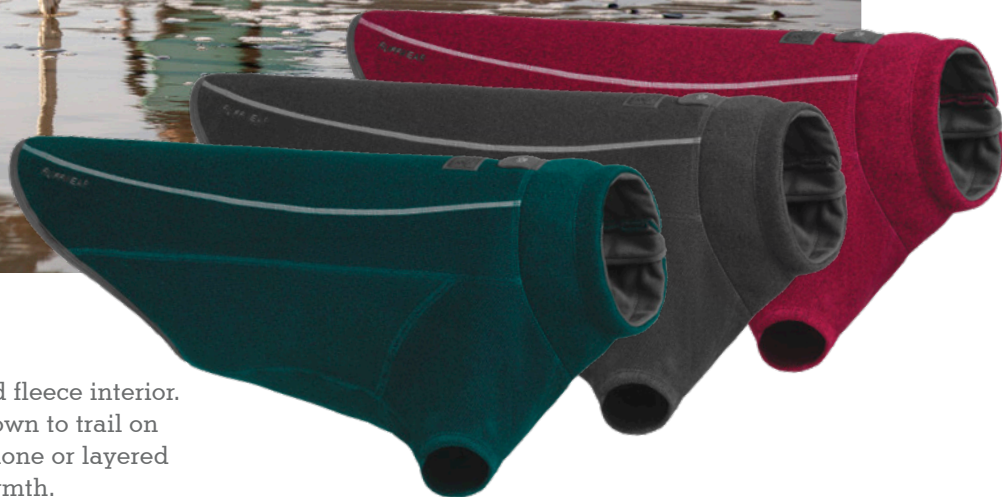

Technical knit sweater with brushed fleece interior. Provides breathable warmth from town to trail on clear, cold days, and can be worn alone or layered under other coats for additional warmth.

KEY FEATURES:

- Updated for Fall 2019 with a shorter length and an improved sleeve fit

CHILL OUT

Gloriously warm spring and summer days often give way to chilly evenings. That's when we call on our fleece jackets to keep dogs cozy – because even when the sun sets and the temps drop, we're not quite ready to call it a day and go inside just yet. Instead, we opt to stay out, gather 'round, wind down, and revel in the day's adventures.

Veri™ Jacket

Protection from the elements with fleece lining for warmth during work and play. Leg loops keep the jacket in place, and the leash portal allows the Veri to be worn over most harnesses.

SLEEVED Jackets with sleeves provide more coverage and more warmth. This style works well in really cold temps, for short-haired dogs who need a little help staying warm, or for long-haired dogs who get snowballs that form on their underside.

 Cloud Chaser™
 Fernie™
 Climate Changer™
NON-SLEEVED For dogs with a varied shape (e.g. broader shoulders, thicker chest, neck, or legs), jackets without sleeves can sometimes be easier to fit. And since they use buckles instead of zippers, they're easy to put on – great for aging or squirmy dogs.

THREADS OF INNOVATION

Curiosity led Ruffwear product designer Monica down a path of discovering a way to weave reflectivity into jacquard webbing. The result: our reflective leashes and collars are available in patterns for the first time ever.

Seafoam

Inspired by glowing bioluminescent phytoplankton found in the tidal wash along Pacific Northwest coastlines.

Sunset

Inspired by the shifting light and hues as the sun dips behind the Three Sisters – the iconic mountainscape in our backyard in Bend, OR.

Green Hills

Inspired by stars appearing in the dark skies above the ancient, layered ridgelines of the Appalachian Mountains.

ARTIST SERIES

We're introducing the Artist Series Quencher™ Bowl and Hat as canvases for art that celebrates dogs and humans exploring wild spaces together. They're built to inspire a passion for these places and contribute to their conservation.

A portion of proceeds from each Hat and Quencher Bowl goes to a non-profit of the artist's choosing. We hope the art moves you as much as it does us to get out there, enjoy, and deepen your own connection to and respect for these special places with your dog.

MEET THE ARTISTS

Sheila Dunn - Alvord Desert

Sheila Dunn was born and raised in the foothills of northern Colorado and currently lives in Bend, Oregon. Best known for her large, vibrant paintings, her work explores the fluid relationship between figure and environment: how each informs and affects the other, and how we both form and are formed by what we see and experience.

She chose to have her art support The Conservation Alliance, a group of outdoor businesses that works together to protect wild places and restore public lands throughout North America, where wildlife thrives and where we recreate.

Christina McKeown - Sparks Lake

Christina McKeown is from Bend, Oregon and loves to spend her time on rivers and in the mountains with family and her dogs. When it comes to art, her specialty is watercolor and ink – the tools are easy to pack on her adventures, and of course, she likes to play with water.

She chose to have her art support American Whitewater – the primary advocate for the preservation and protection of whitewater rivers throughout the United States, connecting the interests of human-powered recreational river users with ecological and science-based data.

Adam Haynes - Mount Bailey

Adam Haynes' pursuit of creativity began young in Camp Sherman, Oregon, where a lack of television and a bounty of books inspired hours of drawing landscapes and scenes from his imagination. He grew up immersed in the outdoors among colossal trees, lazy rivers, and snow-covered mountains.

He chose to have his art support Protect Our Winters (POW). POW turns passionate outdoor people into effective climate advocates for systematic political solutions to climate change as winters grow shorter, snow level elevations rise, and snowpack dwindles across the globe.

LET'S GO

Canicross blends sport and work by connecting a dog and human via harness, leash, and hipbelt in cross-country style running. A dog generates pulling power out front while its human gives voice commands from behind. The team works together to complete a route or a course. We designed our Omnijore™ System with these athletes in mind.

RE-ENVISIONING WHAT'S POSSIBLE

A bus stop seems an unlikely obstacle for a woman who has raced in the Olympics and summited mountains. And yet, it was.

Nancy and her guide dog, Abbie, waited for the bus one night. The bus driver couldn't see them because it was dark out. Nancy couldn't see the bus, and by the time she heard it drive by, it was too late.

This story of not being seen and the associated safety concerns, especially around cars, inspired the development of our accessible safety light, the Audible Beacon.

INVALUABLE SERVICE

Ruffwear believes in and supports the critical role of working dogs in our society. For years, we've collaborated with organizations that train avalanche rescue dogs, scat detection dogs, and guide dogs, to better understand the work these dogs do and to provide the gear they need to perform. Through these partnerships, we have continued expanding our knowledge and understanding of working dogs' needs. We hope you'll join us as we continue developing gear to meet the needs of working dogs and their human companions - and sharing stories of their invaluable service along the way.

PARTNERSHIPS IN SHARED BELIEFS

We are grateful for those whose work makes a difference in the lives of dogs, from effective adoption efforts, to support of working dogs, to protection of wild places where people and dogs play. Ruffwear is proud to partner with organizations that share our beliefs. Through our partnerships, we believe that we can make an impact, create opportunities that strengthen the bond between humans and their dogs, and ensure a lifetime of adventures to come.
