

BATTERY OPERATED

Battery operated lights are an efficient option of lighting that does not require outlets or direct wiring, providing flexible and convenient illumination where you need it most

BATTERY OPERATED

Our line of battery operated lighting provides instant LED Lighting solutions for every space and situation.

3 Types of Lighting

The first and most general type of lighting is ambient lighting. This type illuminates an entire room instead of a specific area. It provides an adequate amount of brightness without producing a glare and can be achieved by using ceiling or wall-mounted fixtures.

Task lighting, as the name suggests, is a type of lighting specifically used to brighten work surfaces to assist in accomplishing an activity or task. Ideal for areas such as counter-tops, sinks, ranges, work benches, and more, this type of lighting also provides bright illumination without a glare to help complete the task at hand. Many of the bar lights, pucks and utility lights shown in this catalog would provide this type of useful task lighting.

Lastly, accent lighting, unlike ambient lighting, focuses attention on specific areas or objects. Often used to create visual interest by highlighting art or textural features of the home, accent lighting can add dimension and drama to any area. The battery operated lights shown in the following pages such as track lighting, spot lights and picture lights will achieve this type of light.

AmerTac's line of battery operated LED lighting has options for each type of lighting and offers the latest LED technology for easy-to-install and portable formats that makes adding light to any area effortless. With advanced features like remote controls, motion sensors and auto on/off timers, battery operated lighting is a great choice for all lighting applications.

According to the US Department of Energy, today's LED bulbs can be 6-7 times more energy efficient than conventional incandescent lights. They emit light in a specific direction, reducing the need for reflectors and diffusers that can trap light, cutting energy use by more than 80%.

What are Lumens?

Lumens simply refer to the brightness of the LEDs. Although it is a common misconception that wattage is directly related to the brightness, watts only measure energy use - not light output. This is important to know when replacing a light to be sure it gives enough illumination for your space.
