

Keeping America Warm

FOR OVER 100 YEARS

2017 CATALOG

Indera Mills is on the move!

Don't be surprised as you look through this 2017 catalog to find lots of exciting changes. The design team (Emily, Caitlyn and Mallorie) have been hard at work creating new products to attract customers to thermal underwear. In the youth market, we felt like more innovation and excitement was needed. As a consequence, you will find new designs and colors for the younger set. For women, we are adding two prints to the collection for 2017. One is a classic floral in the 100% raschel thermal fabrication. The other print is a totally new process which creates a print look unlike anything seen before.

With the introduction of Sweet Seams, we have created one of the finest fabrics we have ever produced - just one example of Indera's continuing efforts to innovate and keep you warm. The 100% ring spun, combed cotton yarn comes together to create a feminine pointelle fabric and garments that are made for everyday wear. Without being bulky or boring, these garments offer that just-right level of warmth.

Perhaps our most exciting change for 2017 is the introduction of a new men's and boy's camouflage product. The fabric is a mini-waffle construction of ring spun polyester. The result is a super soft hand. The classic woodland pattern is updated and printed with an entirely new process. Added to this is contemporary new styling which makes for a never before seen camo thermal.

Even with all of this creative work on the products for 2017 we remain true to our core values. We continue to listen to our customers and do everything possible to provide quality and service to each one of them. We have been at this now for 102 years and our commitment will never waver. You can count on the Indera brand.

Wait until you feel our mini-waffle knit camo thermals.

We have completely redesigned our classic woodland camo garments for 2017. From the yarn all the way through pattern-making and thread, we have made this top and pant BRAND NEW. Constructed from 100% performance polyester, this printed mini-waffle camo top has raglan sleeves, a drop-tail, and an athletic fit. The pant has an updated fit as well - with a front and back rise, a newly designed shaped fly, and a back gusset that follows the natural curves of the body. Black inserts and contrast stitching give this thermal a modern look.

About Our Technologies

Freshness Protection BUILT-IN

Finally an antimicrobial that can stand up to real life: work, play, everyday.

Keeping America warm, and fresh, Indera Mills has teamed up with SILVADUR™ antimicrobial to create warm, thermal underwear products with lasting odor control built in.

Treated with SILVADUR™ technology to minimize odor on the fabric, our thermals keep you ready for any situation.

SILVADUR™ lasts for more than 25 washings, so it stays in place and keeps working for the life of the garment.

For more information about SILVADUR™, please log onto www.intelligentfreshness.com.

TransDRY

Cotton that Dries like Polyester

What Is TransDRY® Technology?

TransDRY® technology for cotton is a patented, high-performance moisture management application that allows fabrics to wick and spread perspiration as well as, or better than, most high-tech synthetic fabrics. You get the comfort and softness of your favorite cotton thermals, along with wicking and fast-drying performance.

Quick Drying Performance

TransDRY® fabrics absorb less and don't become over-saturated during exercise, which allows them to dry faster. The technology offers consistent results of improved drying time compared to equivalent untreated cotton fabrics and equal performance when compared to synthetic fabrics.

For more information about TransDRY®, please log onto www.cottoninc.com.
