Our NEW lines at Mükitchen

This year, we have added something new to our palette: coordinates in softer hues. "It's a look our customers are asking for," explains owner Chadd Moser. "It's a little more muted, a little more farmhouse—but still fun. And rather than matching sets, we focused on coordination." We're not so much embracing tradition as repurposing it for our rapidly changing world.

Fabrics also get a reboot in 2021, with new loose-weave, super-absorbent towels joining the already innovative textiles available at Mükitchen. This year Mükitchen has expanded to its widest range of products yet. "It's about newness, innovation, excitement," Moser says. "We are all eager for that in 2021."
