Hello!

This catalog represents a treasure chest of unique kitchen accessories from around the world that complement our extensive line of U.S. made cooking and baking products.

Nordic Ware proudly manufactures the majority of its products in America, but while our factory is proficient in a wide variety of manufacturing operations, it is not possible for us to be experts at producing everything our customers ask us to provide. If our U.S. factory does not have the necessary equipment or capabilities to produce a special product or component, we rely upon domestic and global partners who have manufacturing processes we do not possess. We identify our globally sourced products as NORDIC WARE INTERNATIONAL.

Only the most qualified and reputable suppliers who are committed, like ourselves, to manufacturing products worthy of the Nordic Ware brand name are selected. We design, test, and approve each product or component before production begins. Then, we carefully monitor their manufacturing processes to assure our quality specifications are continually met.

We insist upon compliance with applicable environmental, labor and material safety standards. So when items are sourced internationally, you can be sure that they meet our company's high standards of excellence.
