WHATS NEW

When it comes to innovation and excellent performance, fresh thinking and outstanding new ideas you'll find our 2019-2020 catalogue full of exciting products and initiatives.

It's estimated that over two-thirds of the writing instruments technology we take for granted in the world today has been inspired by Pentel innovation. And it's thanks to the efforts and close collaboration of our research and development and production teams that we continue to create products that are not only effective but inspiring.

Our fantastic EnerGel range continues to grow. The ultra-quick drying, smooth writing EnerGel ink is now available in a variety of vibrant colours giving both right and left-handed writers a wider choice of non-smudge ink.

Maxiflo Flex-Feel is a unique addition to the respected Maxiflo dry wipe family. Its flexible tip writes like no other whiteboard marker, allowing you to create a variety of line widths whilst still providing a smooth, comfortable writing experience.

Our marker family is renowned for quality, reliability and performance and the latest additions are no exception. A wider selection of N50 markers is now available, with a range of tip sizes to suit all needs. A new and improved twin tipped marker and flexible tip highlighter make their debut, allowing you to create a range of lines and shapes.

Our Pentel Arts range, which is ideal for artists, students and craft enthusiasts, continues to grow. In addition to the wide variety of high quality art materials already available, we've introduced washable felt tip colouring pens in a range of 12 vivid colours. These ergonomic triangular-shaped felt pens make drawing and colouring a pleasure. With new Colour Brushes containing pigment ink, together with a beautiful set of Watercolour Pastels, the Pentel Arts range is more exciting than ever.

Our product ranges are updated during the life of this catalogue, so for the latest information visit our website www.pentel.co.uk

RECYCOLOGY THE SCIENCE OF REDUCE, REUSE AND RECYCLE

As responsible manufacturers Pentel strive to ensure that the natural resources we employ are used economically and sensitively throughout our entire company operations.

In product development, where possible we use recycled materials such as plastics and paper. We also make many products that can be used for a long time – for example refillable pens and mechanical pencils.

The number of Pentel products with a demonstrable environmental advantage increases every year. But it's not necessarily a new initiative: for many years Pentel has been seeking ways of producing longer lasting products that are more efficient to manufacture and require fewer of the world's valuable virgin resources.

Our commitment to the principles of the three Rs - reduce, reuse, recycle – manifests nowhere more strongly than in Recycology. A philosophy that informs many aspects of our business - from the way Pentel endeavour to reduce power consumption to the use of recycled materials in our products - Recycology is also the name of a Pentel filing and presentation range.

Recycology files, display books and organisers are made from at least 50% recycled materials*, designed to reduce manufacturing impact on the environment. But, use of recycled materials does not mean we compromise quality or performance.

Throughout this catalogue you will see the Recycology logo next to many of our products, including pens, markers, mechanical pencils and correction products, denoting the use of a minimum of 50% recycled materials*.

smooth flowing ink

With its revolutionary low viscosity liquid gel ink, the EnerGel formula is quicker drying and smoother flowing than ordinary gel ink, giving a similar sensation to liquid ink. Because the ink dries super quickly it's appreciated by right and left-handed writers alike, as it reduces smudging on paper or hands.

Unlike liquid ink products, though, EnerGel doesn't need a regulator to control its flow – the ink is delivered directly from the reservoir or refill to the tip in one smooth transition. That's why the family of EnerGel products gives you the ultimate, yet affordable, writing experience. The majority of the EnerGel range is made from a minimum of 50% recycled material.

BLISTER CARD RANGE

Our bold, eye-catching red and white blistercards certainly stand out from the crowd. The front of the cards demonstrates a simple, uncluttered approach, showing the most important product information - such as tip size or main feature - and allowing the product to be the main focal point of the packaging.

The rear of the cards provides more detailed product information, as well as suggestions for other products of interest within our range.

The rectangular shape cards with their distinctive 'ear piece' have proved a huge success, as they allow more room to display the product and branding clearly, as well as looking fantastic. With an even wider range of products now available, we're providing the very best support at point-of-sale.
