CAT TOYS

Cats need mental stimulation from play to keep from being bored and to fulfill their hunting instincts. Physical activity from play acts as a workout, keeping cats physically fit and enriches the pet's quality of life and fosters a healthy relationship between the pet and their parents. Pet Zone® cat toys are designed to fulfill cats' natural instincts and bring them closer to their human parents.

Cats sleep most of the day, about 16 hours. When they are awake they need to move around and exercise. In the wild, cats get their physical exercise from hunting. Inside cats receive their exercise from playing with toys that simulate prey. Play provides more than just exercise. Play also relieves anxiety, stress, and boredom. When indoor cats do not have toys to play with, that is when they supplement their playful instincts with anything they can find around the house.

ELECTRONIC CAT TOYS

Electronic toys add a lifelike feel for your cat because the toys do more than look like real prey, they act like the prey too. These toys fulfill your cat's natural hunting instinct keeping them happy and healthy.
