Beneficial for Home & Organic Gardening!

Your Polinators and Beneficial Bugs need a home in your garden! Our BB Houses are a fun and practical addition to your home garden. They are perfect for kids to learn about organic farming, predatory insects, and polinators. The houses harbor beneficial bugs that keep insects such as aphids off our plants. Polinators use the houses to develop from egg to adulthood, where they can facilitate the reproduction of flowering plants! Help host these essential species right in your garden!

What's all the Buzz about?

Bug houses host pollinators and beneficial bugs!

Set your house up in a sheltered area of your garden or away from the prevailing wind.

Solitary bees love sun to help them get out and about on a cold day. Your house will become fully occupied quicker if it is located close to an existing insect hotspot: a hedge, bank of nectar-rich flowers or a pond, for example.

Solitary Bees are typically stingless and excellent pollinators. Since females can't depend on a hive for nesting, they must build one from hollow logs, rarely found in our gardens. Solitary bee populations are in serious decline and desperately need our help!

Ladybugs are cute, happy and friendly beetles that spend the winter sleeping in woodchips. By the spring and summer, they are ready to enter the garden and eat aphids!

Lacewings are welcomed in the garden because of their voracious appetite for plant-eating pests. They nest between pieces of wood and devour aphids, leafhoppers, whiteflies, mites and caterpillars.

Butterflies are important pollinators that love the color red! They slip through the slits to hibernate from winter until spring, when they are warm enough to fly again.

Earwigs are beneficial protectors of fruit trees and vegetable gardens. They are principally nocturnal animals with a taste for aphids and plant lice.

Kokedama literally translates to "moss ball" in Japanese! It is a tradition in Japanese gardening that wraps a plant's root ball in moss for it to be hung or placed on a dish. Kokedamas look stunning with orchids, bromeliads, succulents, Asian plants, herbs and vines. Place them indoors or outdoors, on kitchen counters or bathroom counters, on coffee tables or dining room tables! Our Kokedama Kit includes everything but the plant, so all you have to do is choose!

Making a Staghorn Fern is easy to do!

Staghorn ferns are easy to care for and have a unique modern look that can be used in many spaces. They are epiphyte, which means they are air plants. Staghorn Ferns will gladly grow on a wall mount, which lets air circulate around them. These ferns are called Staghorn ferns since they resemble the antlers of deer or moose.

We have made it simple for you and created a kit out of our favorite new Bamboo Planter. Everything you need to create your own masterpiece is included except the plant. We recommend hanging your Staghorn fern in an area that gets plenty of natural sunlight and plenty of airflow, the two things your fern needs to thrive. They like some drying of the soil or medium in between watering. A good rule of thumb is only water once a week to prevent overwatering.

What the Growers Use!

SuperMoss Orchid Bark is natural Douglas-fir tree bark. Its pH makes it an ideal potting medium for orchids. It allows for great oxygenation and drainage of water so that the orchid's roots have constant access to both water and oxygen. This mimics an orchid's natural environment and helps them grow to their full potential. Available in attractive retail packaging or in bulk quantities.
